1. This Office Action is the answer to a response received on 3/11/2008.
2. Claims 1-15, 30-42, and 49-54 are pending in this application.

Response

3. There was a typo error that made the Office Action mailed on 1/03/2008 FINAL.

That Office Action was supposed to be a Non-Final Office Action. The examiner regrets for any inconvenience it would make.

After carefully considering the applicant's argument and the pending claimed language that the applicant claims his own intellectual property; the examiner withdraws the Office Action mailed on June 15, 2007, and presenting the following rejections based on 35 USC 112, 1st paragraph from what applicant claims.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

4. Claims 1, 30, 36, and 49 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, because the specification, while being enabling for "a navigation routing system" comprising a navigation guide 50 (this is already a quite well-known subject), does not reasonably provide enablement for one skilled in the art to make the same invention and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

Independent claims 1, 36, and 49 assert a "navigation guide adapted to automatically determine ..."; independent claim 30 is a navigation system comprises "means for automatically determining...". Claiming "automatically determining" definitely requires a software with codes in order to "automatically" achieve claimed results (see the applicant's disclosure, paragraph [0015] – a navigation guide 50 comprises software (the examiner fails to find this software with its computer-readable codes), or a combination of software (containing computer-readable codes) and hardware); the specification does not enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to duplicate the disclosure commensurate in scope with these pending claims.

Art Unit: 3661

5. Dependent claims 2-15, 31-35, 37-42, and 50-54 are rejected on 35 USC 112, 1st para. also because they inherit their parent claims' problem as above.

Conclusion

6. Claims 1-15, 30-42, and 49-54 are not patentable.

7. Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to CUONG H. NGUYEN (email address: cuong.nguyen@uspto.gov) whose telephone number is 571-272-6759. The examiner can normally be reached on 8:00 am - 4:30 pm.
